Illia Barger, Stockton, NJ

Illia Barger was the 1999 recipient of the prestigious Pollock-Krasner Foundation Award for excellence in painting. In the same year, the exhibition, Illia Barger: Sacramento, was held at The Cathedral Church of Saint John the Divine in New York City to celebrate five paintings installed behind the High Altar and a site-specific, 48 foot long work-on-paper created for the central nave of the Cathedral. Barger has exhibited in Connecticut, New York, and New Jersey, and her work is in many private and public collections including the Greek Consulate in New York and the Selma Burke Museum of Art in Winston Salem, North Carolina. Her work can be found on www.artspan.com.
